Big Comedy Feature at the Auditorium.

Today, August 23rd, the Auditorium opens it's eighth successful season and in celebration of the event the management will present a specially secur-ed bill of motion pictures headed by the great Paramount five reel comedy film, taken from John Stapleton's well known play, "A Gentleman of Leis-ufe," with the noted actor Wallace Eddinger in the leading role, and an all star cast including Sydney Deane, Gertrude Kellar, Tom Forman and many others equally well known.

In the picturization of that famous New York farce success, "A Gentle-man of Leisure," Jessie L. Lasky pre-sents Wallace Eddinger in the stellar role, thus adding another great two dollar favorite to the list of screen When only a child, Mr. Eddinger had already become a star in the title role of "Little Lord Fauntleroy" and

Theodore St. Peter, 6, Drowned Glasgo Pond-Henry Thebeaults's House at Lisbon Burned to the Ground-Miss Cavanaugh's Mother

drewning accident happened at A drewning accident happened at the Glasgo pond Saturday morning. Theodore St. Peter, the six-year-old son of Henry and Dora Ledoux St. Peter, left the house about ten o'clock and not returning at the dinner hour, search was made for him. He was very fond of bathing, but could not swim. His clothing was found on what is called the ledge. Not until four o'clock was the body recovered. It was found by Theodore Marshall and Magioira Dayon and was in 25 feet of water. In preparing to go into the water he probably slipped down the ledge. The boy was born in Williamsville Dec. 17, 1908. He is survived by his parents and a younger vived by his parents and a younger sister Irene. Another child died in January of this year.

JUMPED FROM WINDOW Woodchoppers in Fire at Thebeault House Threw Out Bed.

The huose occupied by Henry Thebeault in Lisbon was burned to the ground early Friday morning. At half past five, the hired man built a fire in the stove which was in the ell and went to the barn. When he re-turned, he found the roof ablaze. He aroused the family and with consider-able difficulty they left the house. There are seven children in the family and one had to be saved by making an entrance through a window. Two woodchoppers were sleeping on the third floor and escaped by throwing their bed out the window and jumping on it. A piano was all that was savon it. A piano was all that was saved. The outbuildings did not take fire. There was a partial insurance on the house. The family are living at present in some of the outside buildings, until the house can be rebuilt. The place is in the north part of Lisbon, near the Canterbury line and was formerly owned by the Noyes family.

Auto Bumped Into Watchman's Shanty.

Some unknown automobile party ev idently had a narrow escape at the Main street railroad crossing Friday night. The watchman's shanty was moved off its foundation several inches having probably been struck by an auto to avoid the down trolley. The watchman leaves at eleven, and the trolley goes down at 11:09. The track is unprotected, of course, which has been a source of much unfavor-able comment. The shanty was in its proper location at elevn, but at 11:30

Stafford Springs House Meeting.

The spot where there is the fost resemblance to the old-fashioned camp-meeting is the Stafford Springs house on Wesley Circle. Here three times a day, at 9 a. m., 1 and 6 p. m., are held old-fashioned praise, prayer and testimony meetings, which abound in "Amens", "Hallelujahs" and old-time fervor. There are many during the week, who seek Christ, and find new life in Christ.

Saturday evening at 6 o'clock the cottage was filled with a very large company. The leader was Rev. J. R. Miller, West Thompson. A letter was read by his wife from a brother who was here last year, J. B. Hawill, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Prof. W. O. Turner is presiding at the organ in this meeting for the 29th season. It was 49 years ago that he first came on the grounds. His health has not been good the past year, and an offering was taken for him at the close. Many testimonies were given to the forgiving and cleansing power of Jesus Christ.

ENGLAND IN 1863.

We will remember it-England's 'neuwill trailty.

We who have witnessed her cowardy craft; arly craft; arly craft; in seeming, a foe in reallity.

Wiping her eyes while she inwardly laughed.

We will remember when round us were lying Thousands of gallant men, wounded and dead, Rebels on all sides our pathway defy-"Down with our rival!" was all Eng-land said.

We will remember her sham artistocracy, and jubilant over our fall.
Cheerful and jubilant over our fall.
Helping when Treason would stiffe democracy,
Turing a deaf ear to Liberty's call.

We will remember with lasting emo tion.
When her starved workmen were gasping for breath.
While stores of grain we sent over the ocean.
Her ships came laden with weapons of death!

We will remember the Keokuk sinkwe will remember her laughing and winking.

Feasting arch-traitors on board of the Trent. We will remember it when we are # stronger. When once again we stand saved and erect; fer neutral mask shall shield England no longer. By her foul deeds she'll know what to expect! AM I MY BROTHER'S KEEPER?

Am I my brother's keeper? Thru the Am I my brother's keeper? Thru the years,

The long, slow years, each with it's crowded page.
From that dark morning of earth's first told age,
This question comes unanswered to our ears.
Yet must each soul make answer in that day.
When naked it before the Judge shall stand.
And knows that he who but withholds his hand
Is guilty of the deed which he might stay. Is guilty of the deed which he might stay.

Thou art thy brother's keeper. Thine his sin.

And on thy soul his lost years all shall weigh.

If thou strive not his faltering steps to win.

To some safe path, from which he may not stray.

Thou art thy brother's keeper. Oh, take heed:

To will is not enough, be thine the deed!

"Look here, Busteed, you've put me off long enough. I shall expect you to pay me that ten on Monday."
"By jove! old chap, I wish I had your optimism."—Life.
"Whisky, my friend, has killed more men than bullets."
"That may be, sir, but, bejabers, I'd rather be full of whisky than bullets."
—London Opinion.
"Indeed," the speaker went on." I believe that nine women out of ten believe that nine women out of ten propose. As a test, I would ask all married men in the audience whose wives virtually popped the question to stand up." There was a subdued rustle in the that ensued could be heard sibliant feminine whispers in concert: "Just-feminine whispers in concert: "Justyou dare stand up!"

"The girls used to keep me waiting when I drove up in a buggy. I notice they never keep you waiting long
when you drive up in a motor car."

"Why is that?"

"The girls know how quickly a model gets out of date as well as we do."

"Do you object to a commission form."

"Do you object to a commission form of government?"
"Not at all," declared the boss. "Then I can put several of my men into office, instead of only one."
"My neighbor, in the most urbane way, has notified me to keep my chickens out of his garden."
"And you?"
"With the utmost courtesy I have in-

THE KALEIDOSCOPE A trolley car passenger from Portsmouth to Hampton Beach, N. H., counted on the trip 156 automobiles, nine motorcycles, one bicycle and one

A quarter ton of coal was ordered for delivery at a lake cottage near Pittsfield. When the coal man arrived the husband and wife were away and the little girl told him to dump it any-where. He did, and it was found on the kitchen floor.

When the lights at the bandstand in Bridgeport, Conn., refused to work at the time scheduled for a concert, the band adjourned to a nearby street corner and commenced the concert under an arc light. When the concert was about half over the lights at the bandstand flared up and the concert was finished there. The bird class of the University of Vermont, on its regular Saturday afternoon tramp, found an owl on a pine tree, and after they had studied it about two hours they found themselves the victim of a practical joker, for the bird was a stuffed one. The discovery was made after ineffectual attempts to make the bird fly. J. C. Oliver of Woodstock, Vt., has a J. C. Oliver of Woodstock, Vt., has a white fint rock somewhat smaller than a man's flet. Through one end of it is an irregular hole smaller than a lead pencil, caused by a vein of iron which had rusted out. The long root of a dock plant has grown through the hole, filling it solidly and extending some distance in the ground beyond.

When the old dam was removed from Whetstone brook in Brattleboro, Vt., for repairs, an old upright boiler was brought to light, which is supposed to have been washed down stream in the great freshet of 1869, when the shop of George W. Brown was washed away, with its contents. It has been covered with rubbish and unseen until now.

The blue or sulphur-bottom whale is the largest animal living today, Specimens have measured 87 feet in length, which in all firobability weighed about 75 tons. Oddly enough, although the mouth will permit 12 men to stand in it, the throat is only nine inches in diameter. From the inside of one of these whales five barrels of shrimps were taken.
